TEAM 34 Lunch Schedule Info

Hello my fellow parents! I haven't been able to speak with everyone but I'm thankful for the graciousness and willingness to help from those that I have. We're trying to simplify this year and are asking one parent from each team member to help with one Saturday lunch during build season which starts in January. Parents have always worked together to provide the lunches for the team because the students' time will be so limited. It also helps the parents get an inside look at what's going on.

Please find your name on the enclosed list. The first name with an asterisk beside it in each group will be the team leader for that week. We tried to pick ones who've had a child on the team more than one year for this task. We realize people work or there might be something out of your control where you can't help that week. That's why we are making this so far in advance to help everyone be able to plan a little easier. If the date won't work for you please contact the team leader or me and we can switch it.

When it's your groups turn you will enter through the Robotics door and go right down the hall to the Culinary Arts Kitchen. There is a big bar area where we lay all the food out. Lunch is served between 11-12 so you will need to be there at least 30 minutes early to set up. They have ice machines on site. There are refrigerators and outlets for crockpots and a microwave. Please be respectful of the kitchen and put things back the way you found them.:) There is a connecting room with tables and chairs. The garbage dumpster is right outside the kitchen and the kids usually take care of that. If you have any questions about where the light switches are etc. anyone there will be glad to help.

Plan on feeding around 45-50. The lunches aren't set in stone and your team can make changes as needed. We just went ahead and tried to pick main dishes so we wouldn't be repeating the same ones every week. I've spoken to all but one team captain and they went ahead and chose a meal.

Denise Livingston offered to make a Costco run and provide plates, cups, and silverware which will really help. The following are JUST IDEAS about what you can bring with your meals but your team can do it how they wish.

Pizza Day- Usually order from Little Caesars or Pizza Hut because they are close. If you tell Pizza Hut you are ordering for a team they will usually give you a discount. I would plan on at least 15 large pizzas, chips, drinks, and dessert.

Soup Day- Crockpot soups like Chicken Noodle, Potato, etc. Crackers, Ham and Cheese Sandwiches, drinks, and a desert.

Pasta Day- Lasagna, Spaghetti, (Can also be in crockpot), breadsticks, salad, drinks, dessert.

Chili Day- Chili, cornbread, crackers, sour cream, shredded cheese, drinks, desert. You can add hot dogs with this if you like.

Taco Salad- Crock Pots of taco meat, shredded taco seasoned chicken, chili beans or refried beans, shredded lettuce, diced tomatoes, sour cream, shredded cheese, soft taco shells, tortilla chips, drinks, desert.

Hotdog Day- Hotdogs, buns, mayo, mustard, ketchup, chips, sour kraut, chili, (I've got it from Sonic before and told them what I was doing and they donated a whole bag free.), shredded cheese, drinks, desert.

A roll of paper towels, plates, utensils, bowls will be needed with each meal. We are having some of that donated but just keep in mind what you'll need for your meal.

Some of you may have connections or work in a restaurant that will be willing to donate food and that's great! The team leader will touch base with you and then y'all can decide what's best. If you would rather donate money towards the meal because you can't be there for some reason that would also help your team. There needs to be at least two people to help set up and serve. Three to four is better though.

I know this is a lot to take in but it's really a fun time when you're there. The kids are so appreciative and will love you for feeding them I promise. If you have any questions please contact me JoAnna Horn (256) 585-9932 or your team captain. Thanks for all you do and it's going to be a GREAT YEAR!
